Early Symposia
Basics in Nephrology
Pflege in der Nephrologie
December 2, 2015
Dear Colleagues,

It is with great pleasure that we invite you to Basel for the 47th annual meeting. We hope you will not only find time to enjoy the meeting, but also some of the cultural excellence of our city!

The board of the Swiss Society of nephrology gave the mandate to the organizing committee to put an emphasis on kidney transplantation. This was in particular applied to the special satellite symposium of nursing science and the satellite CME symposium – both taking place on Wednesday afternoon. In the first symposium frailty in kidney transplantation and self-management of the patients are discussed with a small excursion into robotics in nursing. In the CME symposium key aspects of kidney transplantation are presented–starting from the pre-transplant immunological assessment and ending in the long-term management of the transplanted patient.

The actual meeting covers four big topics in Nephrology, i.e. basic science, clinical nephrology, dialysis and transplantation. Excellent speakers from abroad and within Switzerland will update you on the latest achievements. To provide more young scientists & nephrologists a platform to present their work, the oral presentation sessions were prolonged, and the ‘forgotten’ poster walk will have its revival. Please join one of the moderators on Thursday afternoon on their way through the poster exhibition. We are sure you will find interesting presentations and lively discussions!

Furthermore, we want to stimulate you to attend the satellite symposia and also the general assembly of our society. Last but not least we hope that you will not miss the final session summarizing the best studies in Nephrology in 2015!
